Madison West High School Yearbook Archives:
Quick-Reference Guide

Part 1: Searching the Archives

1. Update your search: After selecting the "Search the Archive" button, replace the default name "John Smith" with the specific name or topic you want to find.

2. Run the search: Click the yellow Explore the Archives → button.

3. Open the results: Select The Madison West High School Yearbooks from the search results.

4. Navigate multiple results: If your search returns more than one result, use the Search Result 1 / X > > button at the top of the page to cycle through them.

Part 2: Filtering by Publication Years / Dates

1. Locate the date filter: Find the Date options located right next to or below the primary search bar.

2. Set the parameters: Change the date dropdown to Between to open the range fields.

3. Input specific years: Enter your target date window in the From: and To: text boxes (for example, 01/01/1971 to 12/31/1971) to narrow down matches to a single school year.

> Tip: There are many other filtering options to explore in the left sidebar and dropdown menus to help narrow down your results.

Part 3: Cropping and Saving Images

1. Locate the clip tool: Click the Clip button (scissors icon) located in the top-left navigation bar.

2. Adjust the crop box: A selection box will overlay the document page. Click and drag its corners to frame the exact photo or text section you want to save.

3. Save your file: Once your selection is set, click the download or save option within the clipping tool menu to export the image directly to your device.

Part 4: Printing the Full Page

1. Open the print menu: Click the Print icon located on the upper-right utility toolbar of your browser window.

2. Verify layout options: In the printer setup pop-up, confirm the orientation (Portrait or Landscape) matches the layout of the yearbook page to prevent text from being cut off.

3. Execute print: Select your physical printer or choose Save as PDF to keep a full digital copy of the page on your computer.